RUSSIANS READY TO MAKE STAND AGAINST FOE, BERLIN WORD

Slavs Are Prepared For Battle Between Dniester and Pruth Rivers

FRENCH WITHER BLOWS OF ENEMY IN ALSACE

German Flanders Onslaughts Broken Down By British As Weather Clears

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—Twenty-five British tanks have been destroyed by the Germans in the big Flanders battle, the war office today stated.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 6.—The first detachment of 150 women sailors is forming here today and preparing to go to Murman for war service.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 6.—"The Russians have prepared for battle between the Dniester and the Pruth rivers," the war office stated today.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The second week of the battle of Flanders opened today with the launching of German counter attacks against the British lines.

Clearing weather gave promise of more favorable conditions for a resumption of allied operations before the week end.

German counter attacks and raids at several points were reported repulsed in the statement of Field Marshal Haig today.

During the night in the neighborhood of Hollebeke the enemy again attacked, Haig stated, but was driven off before reaching the British lines. At Westholt another hostile attack was made under cover of a heavy barrage, but this was likewise unsuccessful. At other points raiding parties were repulsed.

About Lens, the Canadians had to-day consolidated positions taken yesterday. At some points in the new line, which was forced, an advance over a front of 1000 yards, the Canadians are within a little more than a half mile of the main section of the coal city.

RUSS ARMY MORALE IS GREATLY IMPROVED

PETROGRAD, Aug. 6.—A democracy that has created within itself a rule of absolutism, approved by the people, was Russia's latest contribution to "war governments" today.

Having been given a vote of confidence by councils representative of all Russians, Premier Kerensky is in a position to proceed with his work of regeneration with absolute power. The portfolios of all cabinet ministers are again in his hands. He may endeavor to form a new cabinet, or continue at the present ministry as he chooses. The workmen's and soldiers' council, the peasants' council and other bodies look to the dictatorship of Kerensky to save Russia.

A great improvement in the morale of troops at the front is reported.

FRENCH GUNS SHATTER TEUTON ALSACE BLOWS

PARIS, Aug. 6.—German attacks south of Boville and the Avocourt wood in Alsace were broken down by the French artillery, it was stated today.

The situation in Belgium is unchanged.

YOUNG WOMEN START CONCLAVE AT EUREKA

EUREKA, Cal., Aug. 6.—Several hundred delegates to the annual convention of the Young Ladies' Institute of Oregon, Washington and California are in Eureka today. This morning in Y. L. I. hall they opened the annual convention.

A busy program for the week has been arranged, for not only will there be the usual business sessions, but social affairs have not been overlooked. The visitors will be taken on excursions around the bay, into the Eel River Valley and to the redwood logging camp and mills.

The Most Reverend Archbishop Hanna has appointed his assistant, the Very Reverend J. J. Cantwell, Vicar-General, to represent him during the convention. Father Cantwell also has been appointed spiritual director of the Young Ladies' Institute and his eighteen other national guard officers part in the sessions will be a prominent feature in the meetings held in June.

OKLAHOMA RIOTERS' VIOLENCE PROGRAM

Burn bridges and seize trains throughout the country last Thursday night. Capture banks Friday. Destroy grain elevators, cotton mills, wealthy men's homes and property of all kinds, Friday at midnight. Shoot every man who wears a white shirt." This was to be the start of a two years' nationwide uprising.

DEATH TOLL IN DRAFT RIOTS REACHES 3

Bullets Again Fly In Oklahoma Conscription Disturbances

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., Aug. 6.—The death list in the anti-draft riots which have held southeastern Oklahoma in a grip of terror for the past three days, reached three early today when J. F. Moose of Okemah, was shot and killed by a posse guarding roads leading to Holdenville. Two men have been seriously wounded and a number of others slightly injured. Moose was killed when he failed to heed the command to halt of an armed posse. He was in an automobile and attempted to escape by speeding. Ed Blaylock was killed and two spokesmen injured when a group of thirty rioters were surprised at a cross roads school house twelve miles southeast of Holdenville, Sunday afternoon. Jack Paige, former marshal, was shot in the leg and Henry Johnson suffered a scalp wound. Nine of the band were captured and the others scattered. The third death reported was that of Wallace Cargill, secretary of Friendship Chapter of the Working Class Union, who had defied the officers to "come and get him." When killed he was heavily armed.

Train Brings Rioters

A special train left Holdenville early today with fifty-six of the captured rioters. They will be lodged in prison at McAlester.

At Ada, county east of Pontotoc county, the work of questioning more than a hundred captured Working Class unionists was going on today. Sufficient evidence has been obtained to justify federal charges of treason against them, it is said.

Young men who freely told the officers the secrets of the W. C. U. and won their freedom, declared that the Seminole county rioters firmly believed they were carrying out a nationwide revolutionary plan when they began burning bridges last Thursday night.

The W. C. U., these informers declared, have been paving the way for two years to a concerted uprising against the present plan of government. This was to have extended from coast to coast and to have been signalized by the burning of bridges and seizure of trains Thursday night, captures of Friday and a grand climax at midnight Friday, when grain elevators, cotton mills, wealthy men's houses property of all kinds were to be destroyed.

Shoot Every Man

"Shoot every man who wears a white shirt," was the motto the W. C. U. adopted on the eve of their outbreak.

At Ada a modern Ku Klux Klan, directed by a committee of thirteen, whose chairman is R. B. Cain, president of the Farmers' State Bank, Ada, proposes to take the responsibility of eradicating lawlessness from that part of Oklahoma.

The organization of the Ada Rife Club also the rioting and branches of the two organizations are to be established in every county of southeastern Oklahoma. All rioters arrested will be turned over to the federal authorities. Should they be released from federal charges, individual counties will prosecute them or cattle stealing, bridge burning and charges of resisting the law.

Mercurio was found unconscious near a local mine, where he had been on duty. Apparently he had been cut by a knife or struck with some sharp instrument. Mark Cafado was killed, supposedly by an unknown, three weeks ago. An investigation into last night's attack is being made.

HALL-SCOTT AIRPLANE MOTOR STRIKE ENDS

BERKELEY, Aug. 6.—The Hall-Scott Motor Works resumed operations here today after having been closed for a week as a result of a strike, alleged to have been of pro-German origin. The plant is filling orders for aeroplane motors for the army.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—California's national guard is now a part of the United States army.

Mustering in of all units was completed today and officers and men now hold the same status as the reserve corps of the regular army.

The guardsmen are on the tip toe of expectancy awaiting the appointment of new officers to fill the vacancies caused by the dropping from the rolls of Brig. Gen. Wankowski and the Young Ladies' Institute and his eighteen other national guard officers who failed to pass the army examinations held in June.

50 AT S. F. JOIN U. S. REGULARS IN ONE DAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Fifty men enlisted in the regular army here today, February and August, an average of "slightly more" than three sub-marines were lost each month, an official statement from Berlin, received here today, stated. Against these war losses, many more submarines were built, the statement said.

other in a pistol duel fought for the love of a woman—the wife of the dying men. Jose Alvarez, jealous of his wife and her admirer, Modesto Sylvas, ordered Sylvas from today they met in a lonely mountain pass and without parley opened fire.

Both fell mortally wounded.

circles were agitated today over re-agreed to finance construction of a branch of the Oakland, Antioch & near Montezuma to Suisun, tapping

the rich Vacaville Valley through

N. Y. HARBOR IS CLOSED WHEN DIVER IS SEEN NEAR U. S.

Passengers on Incoming Liner Declared to Have Seen Periscope

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The port of New York was closed today as a precautionary measure after a sea captain reached port with a story that he had sighted a submarine some distance out.

Secretary Daniels said in a statement at Washington that passengers on the liner declared that a periscope was plainly seen.

All passengers were ordered to don life belts, and life boats were lowered.

Before the gunner on the liner could fire, the periscope disappeared.

CARRANZA LEADERS MEET TEUTON AGENTS

EL PASO, Aug. 6.—Five prominent German agents, displaying a large German flag on their coat lapels, today being entertained in Juarez across the river from here by Carranza officials. American government agents are keeping close watch on the movements of the Teutons.

Forecasts today of Mrs. De Saulles' trial, based on her preliminary public statement, indicate the names of several well known people, both men and women, will be dragged into it.

The child may be called as a witness.

In Mrs. De Saulles' statement it is declared that she has been ordered to go to Paris and marry her, believing her immensely wealthy.

When he discovered her fortune was not more than $100,000, he cooled and after sending her to his parents' home in South Bethlehem, Pa., started paying attention to other women.

It is alleged he boasted he could win any woman in twenty-four hours. He is charged with squandering half his bride's wealth. On the pretense that he needed the money to get a consular appointment to Uruguay, it took $37,000, she declared.

Mrs. De Saulles said her husband took little Jack automobile riding with his women friends and exhibited him in saloons until he knew the bar-tenders by their first names.

S. AMERICANS RALLY TO MRS. DE SAULLES' AID

VALPARAISO, Aug. 6.—Stricken with grief at the fate of her daughter, led from the life of social favorite to the cell of a murderer, Senora Errazuriz, mother of Mrs. John De Saulles, saw no one today except the most intimate friends.

Mrs. De Saulles will be amply supplied with funds to defend herself in the trial that is to come. Friends of the family today told the United Press correspondent that it not only had been made to finance such an expedition. This is the way President John K. Tener of the National League felt about it today when told an offer had been made to finance such an expedition.

It is the idea of sending a bunch of big huskies over there with their expenses paid to perform for the benefit of men who are ready to sacrifice their lives for the country is exceedingly repulsive to me. I cannot understand what the man who made the offer could have been thinking of."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Baseball—the home variety—will be dished up to the Sammies abroad by big leagues if manager Griffith of the Nationals can accept an unnamed wealthy man's offer to finance such an expedition. The rich man specified Griffith must manage it, and Walter Johnson must be one of the players.

Griffith's decision depends upon the government's attitude.

GATE CITY FRENCHMAN IS SLAIN BY WOMAN

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 6.—Alleged to have been attacked by Alec Bila, a Frenchman, Mrs. Lillian Emerson shot and killed him early today, according to Mrs. Emerson's story.

Bila, whom she had never seen before, found his way into her room in the tourist rooming house and attempted to assault her. Mrs. Emerson's husband was killed by a newspaper editor some time ago over a political row.

SOLDIER ATTACKED AT GLOBE IS NEAR DEATH

GLOBE, Ariz., Aug. 6.—John Mercouris, a cavalryman in a detachment of United States troops guarding mine properties against the strikers, lies near the point of death here today as the result of a mysterious attack made upon him last night by an unknown assailant. Globe is aroused over the affair—the second within the past few weeks.

Mercouris was found unconscious near a local mine, where he had been on duty. Apparently he had been cut by a knife or struck with some sharp instrument. Mark Cafado was killed, supposedly by an unknown, three weeks ago. An investigation into last night's attack is being made.

FRESH AIR CAMP IS OPENED AT BEACH BY CARROLL

Refuge For Poor Sick Is Established at Huntington Beach Last Week

Capt. Carroll of the Salvation Army is establishing operations characteristic of the organization and has instituted a fresh air camp at Huntington Beach for sick people of the poorer class, who cannot afford to rent a cottage at the beach.

He is starting the fresh air camp in a small way and hopes to enlarge it as means become available. He has rented ground at the beach and has put up a tent of sufficient size to accommodate four people. It is his plan to make the place available to those who can afford to pay their own way in the matter of supplying the necessities of life and later will try to arrange for the care of those who have not the necessary finances.

"I only wish I had the funds with which to equip a big fresh air camp for the accommodation of many of the poor and needy of the city," said the Captain this morning. "There are a great number to whom a week or two at the beach would be of great benefit. One of my greatest pleasures is in rendering assistance to the deserving poor, and were I financially equipped I would establish a camp that would be of untold benefit to the poor of the city."

Captain Carroll is interesting the children of the army in the organization of a brass band, and a number of them have expressed themselves as desirous of learning to play brass instruments. A man has volunteered his services as director and Captain Carroll is anxious to get a number of instruments. He asks that anyone having a brass instrument that has been discarded and is still serviceable and which they would be willing to give to the army, advise him and he will call for it.

Jars are also wanted by the army. A number of women have volunteered to put up fruit to be placed in reserve for possible needs later, and jars are needed. Satsuma plums and other fruits will be preserved.

There has been a big demand for labor recently and Captain Carroll has placed a number of men in good positions. The Shelter Home on East Third is still in operation, where hungry men are fed and where they are placed in positions in a short time. Old clothing is needed badly by Captain Carroll.

Prices on Our Underwear Today

much lower than justified by current wholesale manufacturer's prices. In many instances we are selling at retail cheaper than the wholesale prices. This not only applies to underwear but to hosiery, shirts, and other lines of goods sold in a clothing store. As supplies are exhausted retail prices will be compelled to advance. The situation which exists at the present time in the cotton and wool markets is unprecedented in the history of the textile industry since the period of the Civil War.

Everything necessary to the production of textiles is hard to obtain and can only be had by paying much higher prices than usual.

Cotton, which for the past ten years has averaged about ten cents per pound, is now quoted at above twenty-five cents per pound, both for spot and future.

Domestic wool which for many years has sold in the grease at from 15c to 20c per pound, is now difficult to obtain at even 55c to 60c per pound. Since the war began in 1914, it has been impossible to import any wool, excepting by the consent of the British government, which controls the bulk of the world's supply. So far as wool is concerned, there is little to be had at any price. It is not a question of what is to be paid, but how to obtain possession.

Retail clothing stores are selling goods today at lower prices than they must pay wholesale to replace them. When reserve stocks now on hand are exhausted the public will be required to pay greatly advanced prices—in some cases about double the present prices. The advance in prices is inevitable.

SAVE THE CALVES IS DEFENSE CRY

State Council Urges That Young Stock Be Not Slaughtered

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 6.—Thousands of calves in California are being killed as soon as they are born. The world's food emergency means that this practice should be stopped. Such is the advice urged by the Committee on Resources and Food Supply of the California State Council of Defense.

The reason why so many calves are being wasted, according to Prof. F. W. Woll of the University of California College of Agriculture, is that there is at present a great demand for casein and farmers get such high prices for their skim-milk that they are loth to keep enough of it to feed their young stock.

But not only can calves be raised without feeding whole milk, but after two or three weeks they can be gradually changed over from a diet of milk to a gruel made of calf meal. Home made calf meal is likely to be cheaper and better than commercial calf meal, if the dairyman prepares it from standard suitable food stuffs such as ground barley, ground oats, wheat middlings, and linseed meal—two parts of any one of the first three feeds and one part of linseed meal. A new bulletin on "Feeding Dairy Calves in California" may be obtained free by writing to the director of the experiment station at the University of California, Berkeley.

The California farmer ought to raise the heifer calves from his best cows as additions to his dairy herd, and ought to feed the others until they are ready for marketing for veal. This is a patriotic duty, inasmuch as the most serious food problem which confronts the allied nations is that of meat and animal-products. While food prices are likely to remain high for some years to come, prices for meat animals and animal-products will also be high and should bring good returns to the feeder.

PUBLICATION OF BISHOP AND COLE INTERESTING STORY BY GERARD

Serial Covering Observations in Berlin Before War Starts Sunday

PARIS, August 4.—Will diplomacy ever be the same game, after the great war that it has been since the days of Talleyrand? is the question which is being asked in diplomatic circles.

To James Watson Gerard, late ambassador from the United States to Germany, is given the credit for thoroughly exposing and puncturing the ancient fraud and sham which has gone by the name of diplomacy. Ambassador Gerard's forthcoming revelations of court life at Berlin, it is predicted, will shake the foundations under every embassy in the world.

Diplomacy, as it has been practiced, is a survival of the days of absolute monarchs. From one king was sent to another's court a noble of high degree, who was received with almost kingly honors, to which he was supposed to reply with hypocritical obsequies. Then followed a general game of deception, the supposed friendly visitor doing everything possible to undermine and corrupt the reign of the king where he was an honored guest, and the prime minister of that king, in turn, worked in every possible manner to deceive the ambassador.

Upon Gerard's return, it was decided that the best and surest way to open the eyes of the American people to what Germany really intended to do to us was to print the whole story of his four years at Berlin. It is a fascinating tale, full of sensations and dramatic incidents, but built up by a man who is master of the art of evidence and who clearly and conclusively convicts Germany in the eyes of the world of many crimes against civilization and humanity. Gerard's disclosures, in order to reach the most people in the quickest time, are to run as a serial in the daily newspapers of the greatest circulation in the United States. Each paper as it appears, will be hurried to the courts of Europe, and day by day the chancelleries will be learning a new lesson—that of straightforward diplomacy. This story will be run in the Los Angeles "Examiner," beginning tomorrow.

SEEKING BONDS TO FURNISH JUICE TO UNCLE SAM'S CAMP

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—Calling the attention of the State Railroad Commission to the fact, among others, that the army camp on Linda Vista Mesa, twelve miles from San Diego, needs electricity and gas to serve the 29,000 troops to be trained there, the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric Company filed an application Saturday with the body for authority to sell $119,000 first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds and $114,360 preferred stock, and also, from time to time in the next year, to issue additional bonds to the amount of $373,000 and additional preferred stock to total $231,200. These sums are to be expended in bettering and enlarging the company's extensive system.

The company has already erected poles and wires and is laying gas pipe to the Linda Vista site. It states to the commission that it expects to derive a large revenue from furnishing gas and electricity to the army camp.

Among other extensive improvements that will need money or upon which money has been spent recently are the gas and electric plants of Oceanside and the Escondido lately acquired by the San Diego company, and to which transmission lines have been constructed. A transmission line has also been laid to Fallbrook and to San Juan Capistrano.

The company has also made a contract with the Southern California Edison Company to buy from that concern hydroelectric power and will build a line for this purpose to a junction with the Edison company's wires near San Juan.

Southern Calif. Walnut Growers' Ass'n. Secure License At Moderate Figure

Bishop and Cole have sold their patent on their vacuum walnut cutter to the Southern California Walnut Growers' Association. The machine has been demonstrated to be as near perfect as it is possible to develop it and has given the very best of satisfaction wherever operated. The installation of the cutter in association packing houses has effected a great saving in the cost of culling. It is generally understood that the firm received in the neighborhood of $1000 for the patent. The firm was given the exclusive right of installing the plants.

Bishop and Cole have just been awarded the contract for building a large bean warehouse at Saticoy. It is said it will be the largest house of character in Ventura county. It will be 80x250 feet and with equipment will cost $26,000.

Bishop and his wife left yesterday morning for Saticoy where Bishop will start construction work at once. Cole will remain in this city to look after the firm's business.

RUSSIA WILL WIN

The American heart is deeply touched by Russia's sorrows. The great new democracy forming in old Russia, the fires it is passing through, the gigantic task of its young dictator, all move America with sympathy and hope. But there is no despair.

A writer in a recent number of The Independent points out that hard as Russia's task is, that country is yet better off than France was when she made her first fight for liberty.

Russia has powerful allies with friendliness for her and faith in her. True, they cannot do much for her now, but they are there with all the help they can render and with what is even greater, with understanding and sympathy. Russia has the experience of her friends to guide her. Democracy is not so new in the world today as it was when France carried the torch a step forward. Russia's resources are inexhaustible—human, spiritual, as well as material. A German army cannot occupy Russia as it has occupied Belgium and a part of France. No matter how many Russian armies it crumples up before it there will be others to continue the fight.

Russia's problems are many and difficult. She is facing them in a crisis that would be serious enough even without the internal disturbances that weaken her. No one dare minimize that.

But Russia has a definite ideal and a noble one. That ideal is not going to die now. The Russian people are free and they are going to hold that freedom. And even though Russian armies falter on the front and yield before the on-rushing Teutons, in terror and disorganization, big spiritual forces are rallying that will in the end turn defeat into victory.

ONE WORD OF ENEMY

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin"; yes, and there are some few bonds that in peace or war cannot be separated because humanity has the same loves and aspirations that are not confined to the boundaries of any nation or race. That is why the Red Cross as an organization has such a mighty sweep and such an abiding affection in the hearts of the people. It goes as an angel of mercy into the camp of the soldier and the unfortunate and ministers in gentle service to the needs of all alike. And these women who are giving their lives so patiently to the work of alleviating suffering in hospital and home and camp see, as few others do, the common words and hopes that bind men together even in the very holocaust of war. An American Red Cross nurse who is in a French army hospital writes back home to a friend: "There is one word that we quickly learn in five languages. It is the word that comes most often to the lips of sick or wounded soldiers when suffering or delirium wrings utterances from them. It is mutter, mere, moeder, madre, mother."

Yorba Linda has newspaper. It is to be called the Star, and its editor is A. V. Douglass, who also owns the La Habra Star, which is one of the best weeklies in the county. The new paper is going to cover the Olinde, Yorba Linda and Richfield sections, and to those who know it editor Douglass' way of covering news it goes without further saying that the field is going to be ably and satisfactorily covered. His paper will undoubtedly be a source of pride and decided usefulness for the community.

It is hard for one to believe that there are five and a half million people over ten years of age in the United States who cannot read or write, but that is what the National Bureau of Education tells us in a recent bulletin. It only shows that we have still a long ways to go before we become a thoroughly well-educated nation. A large share of these people, it must be borne in mind, are from foreign countries, but that does not make our responsibility any less.

TRENCH TALES

A lightly wounded South African gave an account of doings with German snipers concealed in a woods.

"We went up as a fatigue party to do a bit of cleaning up and re-dig some of the old dug-outs in a bit of woods," he said. "Our front firing line position was only about 300 yards further on, and beyond a bit of odd artillery work and some musketry there wasn't much doing. We had been warned to look out for German snipers behind the line, and sure enough there were a half dozen of them in the woods we went to. They had lain low when the place was first searched or else had crept in during the night. I came around a bit of a mound right on to one just as he fired at one of our fellows, and we had him over before he could work off another round on us. Then we started a little battle all our own, and for half an hour we were shooting all over the place in the woods. Two of them surrendered, and we found one wounded and pretty near dead, the other four were killed off. It was quite a good bit of fun—much better than the digging fatigue, which was what we went up there for."

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Concerning Freedom

More than a score of years ago, to be set down in a paper that now howls lustily lest its freedom of expression be curtailed, Ambrose Bierce wrote as follows:

When armed anarchists threaten to quench the fires of civilization in a sea of blood we prize of the protective power of "free speech!" If we fondly fancy that the thing he will speak is harmless—that immunity disarms his tongue of its poison, his thought of its infection.

"Girt about by friends or foes, A man may speak the thing he will."

Quite evidently this process of tender regard lacked the approval of Mr. Bierce. He went farther into the matter, buttressing his position needlessly, for without defense, and without more than its mere statement, it was impregnable. There seems to be a theory that a murderous malcontent should be permitted to utter himself unscathed, and that the editor guilty of harboring treasonable sentiments ought to be at liberty to unbosom himself of virus at will. Personally I believe in the freedom of the decent press and the freedom of the decent editor. In time of war the paper that seeks to bolster up the cause of the enemy is itself an enemy just as the statesman who makes a speech designed to cripple the efforts of his government is a traitor.

Mock Sheriffs

When a woman gives her husband to another she gets credit for a noble sacrifice, whereas she is making no sacrifice whatever, but getting rid of bad rubbish, and at the same time playing a game on a rival. The triangle business is an awkward scheme to the person situated at the superfluous angle, and when there is chance to beat a dignified retreat, better do so than to have either a shooting scrape or a spectacular torrent of tears. Still, an orderly retreat does not call for the sounding of the tom-tom nor be stowal of a medal.

Rivalry

For a long time Benedict Arnold has occupied a niche from which nobody showed any tendency to elbow him. But now the voice of La Follette is heard in the land, and seems to be saying to Arnold "Move over!"

Of the Hohenzollern Brand

U-boats are described by the crown prince of Germany as the last argument of kings, doubtless meaning kings of the sort that run in his family. And he seems to be right. There is no argument to come later unless in the nature of a plea to the court for clemency.

Saving the Useless

The doctor who declines to perform an operation to prolong the life of a hopelessly deformed and idiotic baby is accused of violating ethics. However, such violation is less to be deplored than the prolongation of a useless and dreadful existence, that could do the individual and society nothing but measureless harm. The violation of ethics that is the stake in the act of rushing into print over a matter that does not need to be exploited.

Too Much Play

When taken by the police a burglar explained that he burglarized for pasture, but the general conclusion was that he was too much given to frivolous enjoyment. An occasional burglary might be set down to possession of a fun-loving disposition, but going through three houses in a night indicates that all play and no work makes Jack a nuisance.

Disappointing

Certain authorities, after due investigation, announce that shark is edible and fit for the table. Unfortunately this has reference to the shark that is a denizen of the deep. The loan shark is of a toughness that would defy mastication, and probably poisonous anyhow.

Special and Foolish

One of the beach towns has passed an ordinance that no woman unaccompanied by a man shall be in a cafe after 8 o'clock p. m., whether or not liquor is sold there. Any woman who cares to beat this bit of council foolishness will find that she has the backing of the constitution. A woman has just as much right as a man has, to be where she pleases at any hour that suits her, and as to whether she has a male escort, that is her personal affair.

The Exception

When John D. Rockefeller says that he is "at home anywhere," he makes a mental reservation, of course, as to the particular "where" that he is asked to pay taxes as a resident.

Gentle Touch

President Wilson has a beautiful command of the English language. When he bounces an official by letter, the bounces reads the message with the distinct feeling that he has been the recipient of a distinguished favor. He tumbles from his perch as speedily as though kicked thence, and yet alights happy and unconscious of the impact.

WATERMELON

Take advantage of the low price of watermelons and make your preserved gingered rind now, says today's bulletin from the National Emergency Food Garden Commission. To preserve watermelon rind, take two pounds of rind after the peel and the pink part has been removed, cut it into squares and soak over night in a solution of two ounces full strength lime water added to a gallon of pure water. (The full strength lime water may be purchased at any drug store.)

The next morning soak the rind in clear water, drain well and place for ten minutes in rapidly boiling water.

Make a syrup of six cups sugar to three quarts water. Add the juice of one lemon and place in half another. Add the rind slowly to the boiling syrup and cook until the melon is tender and transparent. Remove the kettle from the stove and allow contents to cool. After cooling, arrange pieces of rind attractively in the jars with slices of lemon and add boiling hot syrup of medium heavy density.

Editor Register:—I desire to commend your editorial of Aug. 4th denouncing the meeting held at Clune's Friday evening.

What a contrast between this and Mr. Roots' address.

Yours truly,
A. H. MORROW.

Mr. Morrow encloses the following from Mr. Roots' interview:

"Declaring that 'America must muster its manhood with democracy against the power of autocracy,' he said, 'there will be death, widowed homes, sacrifice and suffering, doubt, almost despair. In the end will rise a great free country, remade in the spirit of our fathers, competent to accomplish its divine mission and carry Liberty and justice throughout the world.'

"Don't argue about why we are in the war, but realize that the time has now come when American liberty, American justice, American independence and freedom is the stake for which we must fight."

On account of the war and other abnormal conditions, it has been necessary to discontinue much and sacrifice much in the way of art ware. One of the principal things to suffer has been fine dinnerware, china, silverware and the like. Many of the most beautiful patterns are no longer made.

Inasmuch as D. L. Anderson Co. had on hand a lot of these charming sets and pieces—now discontinued, they were forced to close them out permanently and finally. This is the reason for their present clean-up sale.—Adv.

KNAUF BOUNCED
OUT OF BUGGY
WHEN IT HIT
A DITCH

Popular Tonsorial Artist Met
With Peculiar Accident
Yesterday

Paul Knauf's agility yesterday saved him from a serious bump on his cranium and assisted him in escaping a serious predicament with nothing more than a slight scratch on his right hand and his forehead. Paul turned a complete somersault backward when he was thrown from his buggy. He landed on his feet and scratches were sustained when the injured parts came in contact with a buggy wheel.

Knauf visited at the home of Jacob Crowninshield on North Flower street yesterday morning, driving his swift steed to the place. Howard Turner happened to drop in to the Crowninshield place about the same time, driving his Buick.

"Mons," Crowninshield kindly professed as for preserves until the rind has been soaked out after treatment with lime water. Then drain rapidly for fifteen minutes in ginger tea. (Use an ounce of ginger to a quart of water.) Make a medium syrup by using a pound and a half of sugar, a quart of water and a pint of strained ginger tea. Cook the rind in this syrup for about two hours, or until tender and transparent. After proceed as in the case of preserves.

Muskemelons—May be preserved in the same way as watermelons except that a little stronger lime water should be used in soaking the rind.

Send a two-cent stamp to the National Emergency Good Garden Commission at 210 Maryland Bldg., Washington, D. C., and you will receive free copies of the home canning and drying manuals.

SPORTS

By H. C. Hamilton

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Johnny Kilbane, according to Jimmy Dunn, friend and manager of the world's featherweight champion for a number of years, never will fight another battle. The words Johnny spoke when a friend of his was killed in an Ohio ring are about to come true.

Kilbane promised then that he never would fight any more, but the lure of a fight with Freddie Welsh, then the lightweight champion, and the added inducement of a battle with Benny Leonard made him break over.

Kilbane declared after the bout with Leonard that he would like to have another chance. In six months, he said, he would try again if Leonard would give him the opportunity.

The probable truth is, however, that Kilbane has hung up his gloves for all time. There remains no creditable featherweight for him to battle; his ambition for conquering two boxing worlds has been stifled. He has made lots of money and saved it. There would be nothing surprising if he never fought again.

The question of a probable match for Leonard arises since he has beaten the man believed to have had the best chance of them all against him.

In all the lightweights there is scarcely a one who measures high enough to provide a real champion-ship go with the marvelous Hebrew.

The choice undoubtedly lies between Frankie Callahan and Joe Welling, with odds favoring the latter. Welling is a cool, clever boxer and a hard puncher. Callahan is a hard fighter and one of the toughest boys the game has ever seen.

Either of these boys would give Leonard something of an argument. It is doubtful if he could stop Callahan inside ten rounds, although he would outpoint him. Welling has a chance to outpoint the champion in a short go.

AMERICAN FIELD HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Aug. 6.—A detachment of picked Sammies today defeated a similar body of famous French "blue devils," in a contest of automatic rifle work and grenade distance throwing.

The "blue devils" have been acting as instructors to the Sammies, but so proficient have the Americans become in the war work that they easily beat their teachers at their own game. The Sammies, firing from the hip, scored twelve and even eighteen hits from each automatic clip. The French were unable to approach this record. The Sammies and the "blue devils" are on the most friendly terms, a strong mutual admiration having asserted itself.

Texans, Kansans, boys from Illinois, Californians and New Yorkers have been floundering for days in rich yellow French mud. Despite this, however, they are picking up the trench warfare game rapidly. The tournament in which the Sammies were victorious was contested regardless of the rain which has turned the entire countryside into a quagmire.

Packard. She is a school teacher and the romance began three years ago, when the young lady was here on a visit.

The groom was born in this city and has hosts of friends, who will extend many good wishes to him and his charming bride. They will reside at 316 West Walnut street, the groom being in the employ of the Griffith Lumber Company.

Last evening a family reunion was held at the home of the groom's parents, all of the members of the family being present for the first time in many years.

A sumptuous old-fashioned chicken dinner was served, the table being made attractive with graceful fuchsias and asparagus ferns. The evening was spent with singing and phonograph music.

Besides the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. West, there were present the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maddux and two children, Dr. and Mrs. Fred West, all of Los Angeles, Tom, Frank, Theodore, Roy and Miss Emily West and Miss Lulu Divver.

Change of Meeting Time
In view of the fact that there is such an urgent call for Red Cross work, it was deemed wise to change the all-day picnic meeting of the First Presbyterian Missionary Society to an afternoon meeting Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the church.

Mrs. Cleland, president of the Los Angeles Presbyterians, will be here and there will be reports from the young people's conference at Los Alamitos, from the delegates who attended.

AMERICA RESURGENT

She is risen from the dead;
Loose the tongue and lift the head;
Let the sons of light rejoice,
She has heard the challenge clear;
She has answered, "I am here";
She has made the stainless chose,
Bound with iron and with gold;
But her limbs they could not hold
When the word of words was spoken;
Freedom calls—
The prison walls
Tumble, and the bolts are broken!

Hail her! She is ours again—
Hope and heart of harassed men
And the tyrant's doom and terror.

Send abroad the old alarms;
Call to arms, to arms, to arms.
Hands of doubt and feet of error!

Cheer her! She is free at last,
With her back upon the past,
With her feet upon the bars,
Hosts of freedom sorely pressed,
Lo, a light is in the west
And a helmet full of stars.

The Veteran Rebekahs of Santa Ana held a most enjoyable and satisfactory meeting in the parlors of the I. O. O. F. hall on Friday last, when the annual meeting was held, yearly reports given, and election and installation of officers took place.

The treasurer's report showed a very satisfactory balance, and assured the membership that although "beam and potato crops" fail, the quarterly "all-day eats" are provided for.

The following were put on the official roster for the coming year:

President—Flora M. Pyle,
First Vice-President—A. C. Tiede,
Second Vice-President—Susan Mul-

Recording Secretary—Hattie Peters,
Assistant Secretary—Alice Whitney,
Treasurer—M. Camp,

A motion prevailed that the annual picnic be held in Birch Park Friday, August 10, and all who have been lucky enough in the past to be included in the "fraternity," which brings good things and good times together, will be glad to still belong.

Every one is to bring a "mystery box" that will be placed on tables and thoroughly examined and sampled at 12 o'clock sharp.

SUFFERING AT CALEXICO FROM HEAT TOLD

talking with a man who was apparently in the best of health and the next day the man died. Most of the deaths from the heat are caused, Large says, because of the inability of many people successfully to withstand the inordinate desire for water and other liquids. Certain people become unable to perspire, on account of the humidity, and death results quickly.

In the belief of Large, had the humidity period continued for one other day, during the recent hot wave, deaths at Calexico would have run into the hundreds.

Large praises Calexico as a commercial center. He says business is booming. Being in the telegraph office, he is able to keep a hand on the business pulse of the town and his observations revealed a condition of splendid prosperity. The cotton industry is at its height, prices for the past several years having been exceedingly good. The cantaloupe crop is another item that brings large returns in wealth.

Large and his wife will remain in Santa Ana for two or three days and will then go to Los Angeles, whence they will go to a mountain resort for a month or more.

Rastus Gets the Idea.

Owner—Do you mean to say, Rastus, that you are going to charge me $3 for digging that small trench?

Rastus—Wah, prices, boss; wah prices. You see, dey is using so awful many trinches in dat Yourapin wah, dat de prices on trinches is gone sky.

As an example of the fatal rapidity with which the heat takes it toll, Large says that one evening he was high.—Kansas City Star.

Driven from Calexico by the excessive heat, J. B. Large, now manager of the Western Union telegraph office in the border town and formerly manager of the company's Santa Ana office, is in Santa Ana today with his wife, visiting with his friends, Dr. and Mrs. C. V. Billingsley.

Large paints a gloomy picture of recent weather conditions at Calexico and surrounding country. Deaths were numerous, far more so, Large states, than other sections of the country were able to be aware of from telegraph reports. This year declares Large, was one of the hottest ever experienced in the Imperial valley.

The excessive humidity is largely responsible for the suffering at Calexico, says Large. The humidity on several days was 84, when the normal humidity is around 14.

As an example of the fatal rapidity with which the heat takes it toll, Large says that one evening he was high.—Kansas City Star.

RITES SAID FOR T. J. ALEXANDER ON SATURDAY

Very impressive were the last sad rites said for T. J. Alexander, pioneer resident of this city, on Saturday afternoon last at Smith & Tuthill's chapel, which was crowded with friends, gathered to pay their last respects to the kindly and lovable old gentleman, who was a familiar figure here for so many years.

Deepening the love and respect of neighbors and friends, the handsome casket was surrounded with lovely floral emblems and the services were in charge of Rev. George A. Francis of the Garden Grove Baptist Church.

Mrs. Manuela Budrow sweetly sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" and Mrs. Frank Harris and Spencer McLean rendered the beautiful and comforting hymns, "Lead Kindly Light" and "Some Sweet Day."

At the grave the impressive ritualistic service of Sedgwick Post, G. A. R., was carried out, the pallbearers being comrades from the Post.

T. J. Alexander was born January 21, 1841 and died August 2, 1917. He was a native of Indiana and the greater part of his life was spent in the United States mail service. He was postal clerk on the Big Four railroad, running from Muncie, Ind., to Bloomington, Ill., from 1876 to 1886.

He came to California in 1887 and served as assistant postmaster under both Postmasters Nourse and Peabody and was postmaster from 1898 to 1902. His late years were devoted to farming in Orange county.

Mr. Alexander leaves a widow, Mary E., one daughter, Jesephine, and one son, James E. Alexander, all of Santa Ana.

He was a Union soldier during the Civil War and saw service around Atlanta, being stationed there as a provost marshal after the war.

"I cannot say, and I will not say, That he is dead—he is just away! With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,

He has wandered into an unknown land, And left us dreaming how very fair it needs must be, since he lingers there.

And you—O you, whom the wildest yearn For the old-time step and the glad return—

Think of him faring on, as dear In the love of There as the love of Here;

Think of him still as the same, I say: He is not dead—he is just away!"

SMALL BOY DID NOT SEE TRESTLE, HORSE IS INJURED, KILLED

Youngster, Watching Coming Beet Train, Causes the Death of Animal

WINTERSBURG, Aug. 6.—Elegio Gallegos, a Mexican living just south of town, lost a horse in a peculiar manner Friday morning. The small boy of the family was watering the horse, when it broke away and ran down the railroad track, toward Huntington Beach. In bringing it back, the boy trotted the horse along on the track, and upon seeing the beet train coming, became frightened and confused and took no notice of the trestle when he came to it until the horse fell, both front feet going through. The huge body rolled or swung over in such a way that its entire weight hung upon the fore legs, with no possible chance to get out. Men ran to be of some assistance, the train was flagged, and the only thing to do was to kill the horse. And now there is a sad little boy who loved the horse, and a poor father who loses the price of the animal, which he purchased but three weeks ago.

DEEPENING the love and respect of neighbors and friends, the handsome casket was surrounded with lovely floral emblems and the services were in charge of Rev. George A. Francis of the Garden Grove Baptist Church.

2 LITTLE GIRLS DROWN; ONE IS RESCUED FROM SEA DEATH; 3 AUTOISTS INJURED

Children While Wading Near Huntington Beach Sink Into Hole, Disappear

A double drowning near Huntington Beach yesterday afternoon, a near drowning at Laguna Beach and an automobile accident in which three people were badly hurt formed a chapter of yesterday's history in this immediate vicinity, incident to the general rush to the beaches to escape the heat.

Elizabeth Gisler, aged 10 years, and her cousin, Mabel, aged 10 years, lost their lives in the Santa Ana river channel to the ocean formed two years ago during the heavy floods.

George W. Young of this city, rescued a little girl at Laguna Beach in the afternoon. The little one was caught by a big breaker and was being carried out to sea when Young noticed her predicament and went to her rescue. She was sinking for the third time when he reached her. He did not learn her name.

T. E. Johnson, a well known resident of this city, was seriously hurt in an automobile accident at the Culver corner when a car in which he was riding was wrecked. His daughter, Mrs. S. A. Shallenberger of Los Angeles, and her little son, Andre, 2 years old, suffered slight injuries. Elizabeth Gisler was the daughter of Robert Gisler, and Mabel Gisler was the daughter of Sam Gisler. The Gislers are prominent beet growers in the Smetzer section, their ranches being located near Huntington Beach. The parents of both were at Seal Beach at the time of the drowning and were informed of the sad affair while there.

The two little girls were wading in the channel in shallow water. Lucile, the six-year-old sister of Mabel, were with them. Elizabeth and Mabel, happy and laughing at the pleasure they were deriving from wading, suddenly stepped into a hole, entirely unconscious of the fact that they were stepping to their death. The hole was about five feet deep and fifteen feet square and the little ones were unable to recover a point of safety.

The girls called for help and Lucile, standing near by, thought they were only playing. After realizing the situation she ran screaming to R. C. Justice of Bolsa, who was surf fishing on the beach about three-quarters of a mile away. Justice hurried to the scene and recovered one of the bodies. Gifford Kutzner, a 13-year-old boy of Huntington Beach, later recovered the other body. An electric car from Newport was stopped and a call for assistance was sent to Huntington Beach. A pulmotor was sent from Santa Ana and every effort was made to bring life back into the little bodies, but they had been in the water too long. One was in the water three-quarters of an hour and the other a full hour.

The scene of the tragedy is about one mile southwest of the Sam Gisler home and is where the Santa Ana river broke through the sand beach on January 19, 1916.

The bodies were taken to the Bundschuh undertaking parlors at Huntington Beach. Coronet Winbiger was informed last night and held an inquest this morning.

THREE ARE INJURED IN SMASH NEAR IRVINE

Three persons were injured, one of them seriously, yesterday afternoon when a small car driven by S. A. Shallenberger of 839 East Thirty-second street, Los Angeles, was struck by a Cadillac driven by D. E. Llewellyn of the Llewellyn Iron Works of Los Angeles.

T. E. Johnson, aged 80, of 420 East Sixth street, Santa Ana, has a compound fracture of the left leg, and he also suffered numerous minor bruises and cuts. Owing to the man's advanced age, his injuries are declared by his physician to be dangerous.

Mrs. Shallenberger, daughter of Johnson, has four cuts on her face, including one that opened her upper lip.

The most seriously cut was little Andre Shallenberger, aged 2½ years. He was thrown through the windshield. His hip and forehead were cut. Across the fore part of one leg, between the knee and thigh, was a cut that was to the bone and which severed the muscles. It is believed that the injury will not be permanent.

There were six in the automobile, Mr. and Mrs. Shallenberger, their sons Gordon and Andre, and Mrs. Shallenberger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson. They were on their way to Laguna Beach. Shallenberger, who has but one arm, states that he was driving but twenty miles an hour, and was extremely careful to keep over to the right edge of the pavement.

The Cadillac was coming from Laguna, and the point of collision was between Culver's Corner and Irvine. Shallenberger says that the Cadillac took up more than its share of the road.

Shallenberger's machine was thrown on its side. Three of the occupants were uninjured. Johnson alone was pinned under the car. The injured people were taken to the Santa Ana Hospital. The Shallenberger family formerly lived in Santa Ana.

CLAIM TRADE NOT TO THEIR EXPECTATIONS

Siskiyou Ranch Has too Much Alkali and Sagebrush to Suit Anaheimers

Finding that a ranch in Siskiyou for which they traded sight unseen is not at all to their liking, Mr. and Mrs. A. Clark of Anaheim have brought suit against Frances A. Nelson to trade back.

The plaintiffs owned a two-acre place just outside Anaheim that they say is worth $7,000. They say that through an acquaintance with Mrs. Nelson's mother they got to the point where they had great confidence in Mrs. Nelson, and accepted her statement as to what the Siskiyou ranch was. She is alleged to have told them that it was all good tillable land, had fifteen acres of potatoes growing upon it, and was worth $40 an acre. Other statements praised the property highly.

The trade was made, H. P. Tobin of Anaheim got a $1000 mortgage on the Siskiyou ranch for acting as realty agent. Now comes the Clarks with an awakening. They say the ranch is mostly alkali and sagebrush land, that it has but two acres of potatoes upon it, and that it is not worth over $2500. Tipton & Caylor are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

Inheritance Tax

H. V. Weisel as executor of the will of William H. Hildebrandt, who died at Anaheim, has paid County Treasurer Joplin $279.91 as state inheritance tax.

MORE MONEY TAKEN IN AS RESULT OF RAID UPON DEVICES

Mexican Who Stole Onions From Doctor-Farmer Pays a Fine of $10

This morning Justice Cox collected $25 in fines for the operation of punch boards. R. H. Enloe of Long Beach paid $200, he being an agent who has put outfitts into the county, while the Husted and Schmer poolrooms of Brea each paid $25 for having the outfitts operating.

These fines make $850 collected through the prosecutions made by Deputy District Attorney Koepsel of operators of punch boards and slot machines. Several other cases are pending that will probably bring the total to $1300.

Name Attracts

The next time you come into this court, I wish you would come in a little early so that I would have time to write down all of your name," said Justice Cox this morning to Dr. Charles Promenelchenkel of Smetzer. "All right," said the doctor, who is now a farmer and a good one, too. "I'll come in the day before. I used to have a middle name, but I dropped

MOVIE WILL SHOW TROUBLES OF MERCHANTS

Practical Ideas of Efficiency to Be Shown at City Hall Tomorrow Night

Every successful merchant in business at the present time is utilizing every means possible to help him advance and build up a better trade. Realizing this, the M. & M. Association has secured one of the most instructive, educational moving pictures ever put on the screen, entitled, "The Troubles of a Merchant and How to Stop Them." The pictures will be shown at the Council Chambers in the city hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The film is a three-reel Essanay feature and is brim full of ideas relating to retail business. It shows an old-style store building, high windows preventing a good display of goods, bad arrangement of stock, lack of proper management and no system, which makes the clerks indifferent—resulting in the proprietor almost becoming a failure. The scene changes, however, when the merchant continues to adopt system—the store takes on an attractive appearance, goods are displayed so they will attract the attention of the customer, the clerks become more valuable through courteous and prompt attention to the trade—in fact, there is such a transformation that new customers are attracted to the store, and the merchant again becomes prosperous.

P. O. Warren will lecture with the pictures. By aid of stereopticon slides, he will deal with the following subjects:

1—Retail failures and their causes.

2—Store organization.

3—Newspaper advertising.

4—Window display.

5—Clerks' efficiency.

6—Selling methods.

7—Credit business.

8—The delivery problem.

9—System in retail business.

The lecture was secured through the courtesy of the National Cash Register Company of Dayton, Ohio. It has received the highest commendation from business organizations wherever it has been shown.

There will be no charge for admission and every business man and clerk in the city should take advantage of this unusual offer. Indications are that the hall will be taxed to its capacity to accommodate merchants and clerks who want to attend.
